President's Letter from Karen McKissock, June 2021

As Matthew McConaughey would say... "All right, all right, all right." I hear you and apologize for any angst I may have caused by trying to take a step forward using some new technology for registrations for events. I should have remembered, "if it's not broken, leave it alone". So, we are immediately and forever returning to the long-standing method for registering for your participation. In case you are new or forgot, it's very simple... If you are not attending then DO NOTHING. If you plan to attend, then please contact your Area Rep AND ALSO please contact the Event Coordinator so they know you are planning to attend and can plan for a caravan. Contact information for the Event Coordinator will be in the newsletter article and your Area Rep contact info is toward the end of the newsletter. If you change your mind, then it is your responsibility to contact both of them so they don't hold up the rest of the group waiting for you.

Next, John Amon and Gail Wagner have spent a fair amount of time reviewing the Newsletter to find areas of opportunity to condense it and format it in an easy reader format. To that end, you will begin to see some places that we will provide a direct link in the Newsletter to the information on our club website at <https://www.midstatemiata.net/>. Lee Maddy has done a fantastic job of converting from our old platform to a new one and I think it's much easier to find things now. However, if we need to point to something from the Newsletter, we'll provide the link right to it so you don't have to 'fish' for it. Please feel free to send comments and feedback to John and me.

I'd also like to say "thank you" to the members who are continuing to find new and fun things to do for rides. There's plenty of great weather coming up and places to take an adventure. With a lot of the reduction in restrictions, we should be much more comfortable making additions to our schedule. However, we still need to consider the time between stops and have rest facilities planned at about an hour or so (not everything will be open). Please feel free to submit ideas to Jay Cartini and me for approval. Here's a link to the template to use.

I know many of us are still a bit Covid shy to enter crowds even with our vaccinations, so it's important to remember that it's a personal choice to participate or not, and, if vaccinated, and if you choose to wear a mask if the venue doesn't require one. Let's have fun but be considerate.

OK, so much for shortening the Newsletter. Sorry, this month I had a lot to say. But finally, I hope to see lots of you this season. 2021 is getting better by the day!

Karen McKissock
MMC President

UPCOMING JANUARY 2022 EVENT

January 20th - 31st, Caribbean Cruise

Event Coordinator – Ray Mosher, Syracuse Chapter

This is something new. Tired of winter here in CNY? Go south. When I retired a few years ago, I vowed to never spend an entire winter here. With 2020 being the horrible exception, it has worked. For 2022 it will be the "Cruise to St Somewhere" and you are all invited.

The cruise departs from Cape Liberty (Bayonne), NJ on Jan 20. It is the 11 Night Southern Caribbean Cruise with Royal Caribbean on Anthem of the Seas. Ports of call are San Juan, St Martin, St Johns, St Lucia and St Kitts (hence the St Somewhere moniker).

We have sailed on this ship and have been to each of these ports before and can confirm a good time. Sailing from New Jersey means no having to fly to the port; you can just drive there the day of the cruise, no worries about schlepping luggage and a couple of sail days each way to lounge on board. The Anthem is amazing – with bumper cars, indoor skydiving, a surfing wave, climbing wall, great shows and food.

Fares vary by room type. Recently the fare was $895 per person for an interior cabin (with a virtual balcony), $1,113 for an outside cabin and $1,419 for a balcony. With $392 in taxes and port fees and discounts, that is $1,937 for two people in an inside cabin. Fares change daily and there are often sales. We paid a total of $2,632 for our balcony cabin. Add in about $300 in tips plus whatever else you choose to spend on optional drinks, casino chips, upgraded meals, port excursions etc.

Watch for more information as we get closer to the event date.
Feel free to ask questions of Ray or Sue Mosher.

Register with Ray and Sue at mosherrskL@yahoo.com (the last character is a L, not i) or 315-635-2584 or 315-935-6281 and your Area Representative.

UPCOMING PLANNED EVENTS

TBD, Hard Cider Crawl

Event Coordinator – Ray Mosher, Syracuse Chapter

Meet at the Lafayette Byrne Dairy

- Drive 1.5 hours on back county roads to Awestruck Ciders in Sidney.
- Taste ciders and eat pub food at Awestruck.
- Drive 1.5 hours on similar roads to Beak & Skiff Apple Hill Campus, 1911 Tasting Room and Distillery near Lafayette.
- Taste ciders, food is available.

This repeats a drive run in 2020.

The destination is an easy drive for the Binghamton group to meet up.

Register with Ray at mosherrskL@yahoo.com (the last character is a L, not i) or 315-635-2584 or 315-935-6281 and your Area Representative.

TBD, Bill Hodge Memorial Road Rally

Event Coordinator – Jay Cartini, Syracuse Chapter

It maybe schedule from early to mid October

Register with Jay at JPCartini@aol.com or 315-676-4776 and your Area Representative.

TBD, Midway Drive-In Movie

Event Coordinator – Ray Mosher, Syracuse Chapter

Register with Ray at mosherrskL@yahoo.com (the last character is a L, not i) or 315-635-2584 or 315-935-6281 and your Area Representative.

TBD, Club Picnic

By Gail Wagner – Midstate Miata Club of NY

Hello, Miata Members,

Is spring here or not? I hope it makes up its mind soon as my poor Scarlet sits undriven in my driveway under cover for the past two weeks. ☺

The Catalytic Converter – What Is It and What Does It Do ?

(And Why You Should Care)

Recently, one of our members had an incident with his catalytic converter and I thought it would make an excellent topic for this month's article. I did some research and found some fascinating information about a small piece of equipment that's normally out of sight.

An academic definition: A catalytic converter (a “cat”) uses a chamber called a catalyst to change the harmful compounds from an engine's emissions into safe gases, like steam. It works to split up the unsafe molecules in the gases that a car produces before they get released into the air. Got that? No quiz. ☺

I'm sure we are all old enough to remember when the Federal EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) regulations on exhaust emissions brought about the first cats on most gas or diesel-fueled vehicles to comply as a way to help reduce air pollution in 1975.

A Little History: The first cats were designed in France at the end of the 19th century. By the mid-50's, research was developed for the gasoline engine on cars and further developed creating the first production cat in 1973, one step ahead of the EPA.

Cats were also partly responsible for the banning of leaded gasoline that damages cats. The EPA began to ban leaded gas in the 1970's due to health and environmental concerns. By 1975, unleaded gas was universally available. Requiring the removal of lead in gasoline allowed the use of cats to meet the U.S. emissions standards.

Where is it? The cat is located on the underside of a vehicle and looks like a large metal box. There are two pipes coming out of it. (On some newer vehicles, including NC Miatas, a second cat is located just behind the exhaust manifold). The cat utilizes these two pipes and the catalyst within it during the process of making the gases safe to be expelled.

Gases are brought in from the “input” pipe connected to the engine of a vehicle. These exhaust gases are blown over the catalyst which causes a chemical reaction that breaks apart the pollutants. The less harmful gases now travel through the second pipe, or the “output,” that is connected to a car’s tailpipe.

The catalyst inside a cat is made typically from platinum or a similar metal, such as rhodium or palladium. Gases flow through a ceramic honeycomb structure located within the cat housing design by Corning Glass right here in CNY. The housing is lined with metals that have specific jobs in reducing emissions. There are two main types of catalysts that might be featured in a car:

- Reduction catalysts: Help reduce nitrogen oxide pollution by removing oxygen. Nitrogen oxides are broken up into nitrogen and oxygen gases, which on their own are harmless.
- Oxidation catalysts: Used to change carbon monoxide into carbon dioxide through an opposite process of adding oxygen.

And Guess What? An Oxygen Sensor! Ever wonder what that was for? An oxygen (O₂) sensor works to tell a car’s electronic control unit (ECU) how much oxygen is found in the exhaust gases. This helps a vehicle run on a more efficient air/fuel ratio, allowing the engine to supply the converter with enough oxygen to complete the oxidation process.

That’s Hot! Cats require a temperature of about 800°F to operate efficiently so it has to be placed close to the engine as possible on the exhaust system beneath the vehicle or one or two smaller cats known as “pre-cats” are placed immediately after the exhaust manifold. This is a reason why you are advised not to park on dry grasses which can cause a fire.

Signs of Catalytic Converter Issues:

- Declining fuel efficiency: If a cat becomes clogged, it can reduce the amount of airflow through your engine. To compensate, your engine might start to burn more fuel than usual resulting in a noticeable drop in fuel efficiency.

- The Infamous Check Warning Light: Just to confuse things, a check engine light can indicate a range of things. However, there is a diagnostic system on cars manufactured after 1996 that will test the cat. If your converter is malfunctioning, the air-to-fuel ratio sensors might trigger the warning light to come on.
- Smelling rotten eggs: The cat might experience internal damage that causes it to have a hard time converting exhaust gases. The result can be a sulfuric “rotten egg” smell.
- Issues starting the engine: The exhaust gases in a vehicle have to escape. A clogged cat can’t prevent this from happening as effectively. This can result in increased exhaust pressure and cause your car to sputter or stall.
- Poor acceleration: Exhaust gases have to escape somehow. Trapped exhaust and increased pressure from a clogged cat might cause trouble accelerating. You might notice jerking or stalling when you try to do so.
- Failed emissions test: NYS requires regular emissions testing on vehicles and if you don’t pass the culprit may be the cat. Cars less than 2 years old (2020 and 2021 currently) or older than 25 years old (1996 and older) are exempt from emission testing in yearly NYS inspection.

Theft!! With the external location and the use of valuable precious metals including platinum, palladium and rhodium (currently $29,000 per oz.!), cats are a big target for thieves these days. The problem is especially common among late-model trucks and SUVs because of high ground clearance and easily removed bolt-on cats but that doesn’t exclude our little Miatas, especially those in off-premises winter storage. (Good reason not to jack them up off their tires during storage. Ripe for the “pickins”.) ☹

Welded-on cats can be easily cut off. Pipe cutters are often used to quietly remove the cat but other tools such as a portable reciprocating saws can often damage other components of the car such as the entire exhaust system, alternator, wiring or fuel lines so there are dangerous consequences.

Rising metal commodity prices boom during the 2000s led to a significant increase in cat theft and a cat can cost more than $1,000 to replace on newer vehicles. Luckily for older Miatas 1990-2005 this isn't so much of a problem financially unless further damage was done to the vehicle in the process of removing the cat.

You can take steps to deter theft that include having the cat welded to the car so it's harder to remove, engraving the car's vehicle identification number (VIN) so it's easier to identify as stolen property, spend a few hundred dollars for a special clamp or cage that will make removal far more difficult or invest in a car alarm that is sensitive to the vibration of a cat being sawed off.

Take care of your Miata and it will take care of you!
